

MY BELOVED TEDDY

*You meant the world to me little man
From the start you stole my heart
With your crazy antics and lively steps
And your very large "bark, bark"*

*You and I bonded to say the least
Xena could not have been less pleased
Although she didn't show you her love
Now that you're gone she can't find peace*

*Not a day goes by I don't think of you
And I know in my heart you know this is true
My bed is not the same, there is a hole in my heart
Although I knew someday we would have to part*

*Some comfort I find in knowing you have gone
Chasing, jumping, pushing balloons to the edge
Of Rainbow Bridge where you are healthy again
Full of life, energy and happiness gained
And knowing I won't ever forget you my best friend.*
